

Why Music is Such a Help to a Community

THE VIOLIN AN ESPECIALLY INTIMATE MEANS OF EXPRESSION.

All Are Invited to the Community Violin Concert Given for the People of Narberth December 4th, in the Y. M. C. A., by Miss Mary Fulton Gibbons.

In order to find her way from Vienna back to America during the most intense fighting of the war, it was necessary for Miss Gibbons to wait more than a year before the Austrian authorities would consent to her leaving the country. While studying in Bohemia and Vienna she made her home with the family of a high officer in the Austrian army, a member of the general staff. Plans and papers disappeared from the officer's desk one night, and Miss Gibbons was suspected of taking them, knowing as the officer did that her heart and soul was with the Czechoslovak ideals for freedom and not with the Austrian plan of continuing Bohemia's subservience to the house of Hapsburg. To reach a seaport, she traveled to Bergen, Norway, spending weeks on the way to observe the temper of the peoples through whose countries she passed.

Dissention, discussion, fear, loyalty, uncertainty, bitterness, confidence, love, hate—in fact, every emotion of the human spirit seethed within every man and woman with any red blood in his veins. A normal conversational intercourse with the peoples of Europe, therefore, Miss Gibbons found to be almost impossible. Music, the language which expresses and consoles where words fail, proved to be the only means of intercourse among the people which quieted their spirits and took their minds away from the harrowing perplexities and tragedies of war.

So Miss Gibbons feels about music in every-day life here in America in the family, in the church, in the community. Music lifts us out of ourselves, out of that "earth of the earth earthy" atmosphere which so often is the companion of struggle, competition, that material side of "getting along" in the world.

She will play her violin to the community of Narberth Thursday evening, December 4th, in the community spirit; that spirit which brings us all together, to trust, sympathize and hold together, the spirit which America needs at this time in her history quite as much as Russia needs, that Italy needs—that the whole world needs.

We Americans do not understand the Czechish language, the Russian or Polish languages. But the voice of these peoples expressed through their music brings us all closer together, helps us to become acquainted so that we are able to sympathize and feel with each other and to realize that we human beings the world over are all striving for the same ideal—to live, let live and be happy.

Music can help us to our goal more often than we realize if we can but hear more good music and come oftener under its intimate edifying influence.

The concert is a free public open one to be held in the gymnasium of the Narberth Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening, December 4th, at 8.15. Everybody is invited, old and young, rich and poor. Miss Gibbons wishes to say that

Women's Community Club Notes

The second regular meeting of the Women's Community Club was held Tuesday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. Building. Meeting opened with a short business session, followed by reports of work accomplished and future plans.

The Music Committee asks all members interested in a Club Chorus to please communicate with Mrs. A. B. Ross, phone Narberth 1639-W. Mrs. Ross is very anxious to have this chorus as large as possible, so it is hoped that each member will join.

The Legislative Committee plans classes in legislation, dates for which will be announced later. As also will the program of study. The classes will be free to all members.

The Hospitality Committee will give a card party at the residence of Mrs. Dohard on the afternoon of December 12th. Will members bear this date in mind and make the party a real success?

The Membership Committee reported ten new members and sixteen applications to be acted on at the next Executive Board meeting.

Mr. Henry Gideon, chief of the Bureau of Compulsory Education of Philadelphia, gave a most interesting address on the "Child Labor Laws of Pennsylvania," which was very much enjoyed by those present.

The Club has also received an invitation for an open forum under the auspices of the City Club at their club rooms, 313 South Broad street, December 4th. The morning session 10.30 until 12.30 and the afternoon session 2 to 4.30. It is free to all of our members who care to avail themselves of the privilege. The subject is to be "The High Cost of Living" in its various phases.

There is also an invitation to all of our members from the Women's Economic Club for a hearing of the "Plum Plan." This also deals with the "Cost of Living." The meeting will be held December 12, 8.15 P. M. at the Lu Lu Temple, 1337 Spring Garden street.

Also bear in mind the evening of December 4, 8 P. M., our violin recital, which promises to be a real treat, Miss Mary Gibbons being the violinist. This recital is for all of our members and friends.

LOUISE VOSS COCKRILL,
Press Chairman.

Memorial Question Must be Settled

"THE SPECTATOR" DISCUSSES THE RIGHT AND WRONG OF THE MATTER—PROMPT ACTION NECESSARY.

To the Editor of Our Town:

As the men who conceived and who are furthering the plan to rejuvenate the Fire House as a War Memorial have applied themselves to the project with great interest and fine intention, in an earnest endeavor to secure for the borough a worthy emblem of a tremendous occasion, it would not be fair if those who cannot become reconciled to this particular form of memorial-expression were not equally constructive in their purpose to have a different viewpoint accepted, and the first claim we would have our friends consider is that the rehabilitation idea is altogether too confusing, too involved, has to do with too many elements which are extremely remote from the main issue, and is much too hybrid in its nature to even give it the semblance of a free-hearted and whole-souled commemorative offering. And that brings us right up to what a Memorial is or should be, the Right and Wrong of the matter, and in discussing this primary question let's make sure that we are governed by those philosophical fundamentals which our training and experience have indicated must form the nucleus of any movement in which the choicest features of human nature are involved, where the nobility of mankind must pass in review, now and in the times to come, and don't let's be swayed by every transient idea nor even by those intensely practical notions advanced by woman journals which men seem to read so zealously and quote so fondly.

On the premise indicated, therefore, the claim is made that the True War Memorial is distinctly a spiritual thing in its conception, and that its erection makes manifest the most admirable blessings of Christian civilization, of love, gratitude, patriotism, sacrifice, service, immortality, the most exalted emotions of which the human mind is capable, and any effort which is made to contaminate this holy and wholesome impulse by intruding on it with features which are in nowise kindred to it must be construed to indicate that only imperfect thought has been given to the facts of the case or that the consummation so devoutly wished has not been properly comprehended. Fortunately, an examination of the details of the Fire House plan can be made in an outspoken fashion, as the men supporting it need yield to no one in their loyalty to the best interests of the community, and they will appreciate that when views run counter to their own, the outlining of the opposite position can best be made in terms which are free from confusion if the progress of the general movement is to be facilitated:

1. The Fire Company offers its property subject to encumbrances for memorial purposes, but the fact that a similar disposition to forgo its equity has been indicated on a previous occasion, and for an altogether different purpose, deprives the tender of that unquestioned dignity which must accompany every feature of a true memorial undertaking. Therefore, the plan starts with a serious disadvantage with respect to the ethical object in view, and no memorial quality can be discerned in the offer which has been made.

2. With the exception of the two small rooms which are to be added to the present building to provide permanent quarters for the American Legion, the facilities shall remain precisely as at present, and the only difference shall be that the town shall have a more or-

School Notes

"I Thank Thee."

I thank Thee, Lord, that I am straight and strong,
With wit to work and hope to keep me brave;
I thank Thee that I love the things of earth—
Ripe fruits and laughter, lying down to sleep,
The shine of lighted towns, the graver worth
Of beating human hearts that laugh and weep.
But more than all, and through all these should go—
Dear Lord, this on bended knees,
I thank Thee for my friend.

Thanksgiving Exercises.

Thanksgiving Day in the Narberth Schools is always a truly THANKSGIVING. The pupils from the first to twelfth grade gave us a good program; the teachers had given thought and effort before; the Directors gave us good speeches; the parents gave us a good audience and inspiration; everybody gave something to make somebody else thankful. The donation was the largest in the history of the school.

"November is a gray old month," and it brought its dreary coat of rain: "But underneath his sober coat, his heart is blithe and gay, and he it is who brings the glad Thanksgiving Day." How happy the children and parents were as one song and recitation after the other presented pictures of turkeys, nuts, fruit and pumpkin pie, but above all the true spirit of Thanksgiving Day—Thanks giving and Thanks living that comes from the heart. All of the numbers rendered were forceful; special comment might be made upon all, but possibly the finest production from the standpoint of technique was the rendition of "God's Glory in Nature," by Beethoven, rendered by the High School Chorus.

Besides the part the children took, Directors McCarter and Dohard gave short addresses, which, as usual, were enthusiastically received by the students. Rev. Gray closed the exercises with prayer.

Mothers' Meeting.

Mothers' Meeting on Tuesday afternoon proved to be the largest similar meeting that teachers, directors and mothers have been privileged to enjoy. Mr. McCarter, President of the Board, opened the meeting with an informal address of welcome. For fifty-five minutes following this, the mothers asked questions which were answered by the principal or teachers. The answers were given in such a way as to first supply the information requested, and secondly the underlying principle involved. Mr. James R. Houston, who generally makes it a point to be present, spoke in behalf of the parents present, urging that the fathers and mothers who make it a habit of visiting the school, and who attend these meetings, and through these mediums are acquainted with actual conditions in the school, should take every opportunity to spread the ninety-nine good points of the school. He regretted that so much was taken from hearsay by people who never get matters first handed, and that these distorted ideas are circulated.

The social hour that followed was perhaps as beneficial as the more formal hour. While some girls under the direction of Miss Fryer served refreshments,

Editorial

To the Editor of Our Town:

In regard to corporal punishment in our schools, I am sure there is very little of it, except in extreme cases, and what a blessing it is to our community, while there are boys in our town who need it, let us not spare our dignity at the expense of our boys. There is many a dignified looking boy and man in prison today who might have been saved.

From a mother who appreciates the high ideals of our school faculty.

INTERESTED.

To the Editor of Our Town:

A funny story is told about the Cub, and the writer is at a loss to understand how such an affair could have been pulled off so successfully on the popular reporter of Our Town. Cub was recently given—yes, given—a fifty-cent cigar, and immediately put it in a very conspicuous pocket where the gold band would cause, he thought, extreme envy among some of the boys at the firehouse forum. Some cruel friend gently lifted the fifty-cent cigar from the Cub's pocket and substituted a two-for-five cigar in its place, after having exchanged, unknowingly to the Cub, the band. But this cruel friend had a conscience, and a few moments later confessed to the Cub that he had

That's not much for times like these, is it? Better consider a policy which will give you all you ought to have, making sure of an amount calculated to cover entirely the exigency involved. Life Insurance is a fine friend.

pulled off this trick, and held out the fifty-cent cigar, requesting that the Cub give him back the two-for-five. It was at this point the Cub became suspicious, and said: "Not on your life. You can't make me think you did a thing like that unknown to me!" Cub immediately brought forth the two-for-five, which was gaily decorated with the fifty-cent band, and proudly lighting it walked from the firehouse forum, remarking: "A cigar always tastes equal to the amount you paid for it. This is a wonderful cigar—the best I have ever smoked." It was then that the boys at the forum lit the fifty-cent Porto Rico, and as they sat around taking turns in puffing at the cigar which they had taken from the Cub in such an ungentlemanly way. However, Cub has never known the difference, and Bill Cummer says that "Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise" applies even at the firehouse forum in Narberth.

A Great Opportunity

Do you want to improve your spare time and become a practical engineer? The Pennsylvania State College has a Home Study Plan, owing to special State appropriations, to provide needed instruction for men who have never had an opportunity of getting a practical course of study in their direct line of work and who have interest and ambition enough to study at home. Professor Coggeshall, of Narberth, who is one of the faculty of State College, is enabling men of Narberth to have this privilege of taking courses in shop arithmetic, shop sketching, mechanical drawing, machine design, advanced shop mathematics, strength of materials and shop organization and management. A number of courses giving instruction in other branches are also available. Our local Y. M. C. A. has generously offered the use of their building in Narberth for those classes. It is planned to begin the classes about December 20th, and so there is need for quick decision so we can avail ourselves of this opportunity. Classes in each subject are held once a week. Each subject is divided into twenty lessons, and so twenty weeks are required to complete a given subject. There is a small charge of $5.00 for each subject which covers the cost of books also. Simple equipment for shop sketching and drawing for builders can be secured at cost price. A deposit of $2.00 is required on time of registration and the balance in installments of one dollar a week. A handsomely engraved certificate of proficiency will be issued by the Pennsylvania State College to each person satisfactorily completing a course of twenty lessons. Some of the finest young men of our town are now students at State College, and it is hoped a good number will take this Home Study Plan. For further particulars and registration consult Mr. Dayton, the Secretary of our Y. M. C. A., or Prof. Coggeshall, 220 Dudley avenue.

American Legion Dance December 5th

The Dance Committee of the American Legion earnestly request that all those devotees of the Terpsichorean art who wish to attend the first of their series of dances, address themselves to the nearest available member of the Legion, or to one of the committee, as soon as possible.

It is obviously impossible, with the limited floor space of Elm Hall, to accommodate comfortably all of the members and their friends who are anxious to indulge their ballertrusse proclivities, so that the situation is one of "first come, first served, and the devil take the hindmost," as Marcus Aurelius puts it so pithily in his "Maxims of the Mean-footed."

The divertissement under discussion takes place on Friday, the 5th of December, in that historic shrine, Elm Hall. Those famous jazz artists, "The Senators," who did so well by the Welcome Home dance of the service men, will again be the purveyors of melody which will go far to assure a lively time being had by all. The expense entailed is two dollars a couple, including war tax, which does seem very little, doesn't it?

The members of the committee are the following gentlemen: E. H. Wipf, J. T. Ward, R. A. Mueller, D. P. Trotter, J. M. Trotter, Norman Magill.

mothers exchanged opinions among themselves and consulted teachers. Many of the mothers present eagerly asked when the next meeting would be held. The announcement made by Mr. Melchoir that arrangements would be made for a fathers' meeting to be held some evening at 8.00 o'clock, and also a general meeting of fathers and mothers some evening at the same hour, met with hearty approval.

Important Notice Relative to Admission of Beginners.

Beginners will be admitted to the first grade during the week of January 5th, but no child will be admitted who does not present a certificate of vaccination. This State law will be strictly adhered to. The local school authorities have no option in this matter; it is their duty to obey the law, and to the best of their ability they will do so. It is suggested that parents expecting to send children, have them vaccinated now so that certificates will be ready for presentation on the day of enrollment.

Dates to Remember.

Turn to your calendars and memoranda, and mark "closed date" the evening of December 22nd, marking back of it Christmas Carol, High School Auditorium. This notice is being given in good time.

Here is another date—Tuesday afternoon, December 23rd, 1.30, Christmas exercises by the children of the Elementary School.

Now perhaps the Sophomore boys will cease their boasting. They had a fair and square whipping on the gridiron on Wednesday forenoon by their chaffing opponents, the Freshmen.

Of course if results had been reversed, we would say the same about the other fellows. The score was 12-0 favor of Freshmen.

NOTICE TO GROCERS.

Combination Sales of Sugar with Groceries Must Stop.

The continual complaints brought to the notice of United States District Attorney Kane regarding the forced combination sale of sugar with other groceries caused him on Tuesday to serve a warning to the managers of all stores, especially those of the two prominent chain stores, that the practice must cease by Friday or arrests will follow.

The complaints show, said Mr. Kane, that the custom generally was to sell half a pound of sugar with 50 cents' worth of goods and two pounds of sugar with $5 worth.

Radnor High School took full title to the football supremacy of the Main Line last Saturday, when Coach Hunt's team, one of the greatest ever developed at the Wayne institution, defeated Lower Merion High School, 51 to 0. The game was played before a big crowd on the Lower Merion grounds at Ardmore.

The score breaks all records in the history of the annual contests between the two schools, which began in 1898, and the result of the game sends the Charles S. Powell Cup back to Wayne for a year. It was a case of veterans of three years' standing against a team of newcomers.

MEMORIAL QUESTION MUST BE SETTLED.

nate establishment in which to accommodate its industrious and capable municipal bureaus, and the fire department shall be in a position to operate under the new conditions which it has so long desired. These latter features would unquestionably be fine accomplishments of themselves, but isn't it obvious that when they are contemplated in connection with a memorial plan the governing impulse of the true memorial project is at once rejected, inasmuch as the community is providing exceedingly well for itself, and the new hall could hardly be regarded as "the altar that sanctified the gift," but rather as a real Yankee enterprise which succeeded in garnering the chief benefits of the occasion.

3. The desire to secure a meeting place for the American Legion is without doubt a highly commendable one, but careful thought must make plain that such a purpose is as separate from the memorial principles as are the Poles in their relation to each other, and furthermore, it is not likely that the Legion shall suffer for quarters if the Fire House project is not accomplished. Don't forget, friends, that these fine fellows have never as yet been accustomed to wet-nursing, and it is not probable they will like it in the long run, and it's my notion that one of these days they are going to show the town a thing or two in their ability to take care of themselves, for who has had more experience or better success in doing that very thing?

4. The cost of the project is altogether out of proportion to our means, and extravagance is no concomitant of nobility or intelligence.

5. If I have not precluded the admission of evidence on the practical side, can't we agree that this project, involving so many old things made over and in a wretched, makeshift fashion, despite its high cost, is likely to retard that real progress which is due the town in the facilities with which it must ultimately provide itself, and if it is still insisted that utilitarian motives must be recognized on all occasions, why not make sure to look for the disadvantages which might be imposed as well as the advantages which will accrue?

The proposal which has heretofore received the greatest and most cordial consideration has been the clock tower, but if the objections which have been made to it are of sufficient merit to warrant its dismissal, let's unite on something else which will correspond with the moral standard by which we must be governed on this auspicious occasion, even if that selection shall be a slab of granite, plain and unadorned, and make sure we give no tolerance to the dictum that because we adopt an expression of bygone days we are derelict in our aemmen and are not faithful to the bristling spirit of these enlightened times, not overlooking that the souls of men have existed in all ages. 'Tis true the old tree would have to come down to make way for the clock, and that would be a pity, but isn't it a fact that the mission we're on makes us disposed to spend our emotions, not to save them, and wouldn't this bit of sacrifice be quite in keeping with the spirit of the project? And that situation which has been described as an incongruous one, isn't it the best available for any memorial and isn't it likely to grow better as a result of the fine presence of the tower suggested, and the prospect of other good things coming to pass all about it is surely excellent in its potential value, and that angle should have enough of real practical merit to warrant the toleration of those who might be disposed to regard the basis of consideration which I advocate as entirely too academic and restricted for these more modern times. At any rate, the time has come for us all to be underway, and let's heartily assure the committee that they shall have the earnest support of every man and woman in the community in their purpose to provide an edifying expression of Narberth's participation in the most tremendous and important event in all the world's history.

And, Mr. Editor, do you think it would be quite the right thing if Charley Noel were to say, when the alarm goes in from my house, "That's where the guy lives who tried to scotch the Fire House plan—let 'er burn?"

MERION'S TRIBUTE HOUSE.

In the name of eighty-one young men from Pennsylvania's richest community and the thousands of others throughout the State who gave up or risked their lives in the great war, Eldridge H. Johnson, head of the Victor Talking Machine Company, Monday presented to Merion his $200,000 estate and an agreement to build upon it the finest tribute house in the country.

Work is to be started at once on the tribute house. It will contain an auditorium to seat 500 people, a tea room equipped to serve social gatherings throughout the community, lodge rooms for the American Legion and club comforts for the citizens of Merion. Without the furnishings it will cost Mr. Johnson upward of $150,000.

Very acceptable, handy to give—War Savings Stamps. Solve some of the troublesome problems of Christmas giving by sending or giving War Stamps or Thrift Stamps.

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow-townsmen, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.

As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 2 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.
